Netsecrets have hosted our email and website services since they originally designed our website in 2004. From the first meeting with Tony Burt I was impressed with their approach to the design process and attention to BTI's requirements. Right from the start the emphasis was on building a website that not only looks good but WORKS.

BTI provide IT Monitoring and Alerting systems for companies whose IT infrastructure can be anything from a single server rack up to a large data centre. Therefore our website needed to be Professional Looking, Informative, Easy to Navigate and Interesting

Tony and his team at Netsecrets took this onboard and delivered the first version within a few weeks. It doesn't stop there... Since the site was up and running there has been various monitoring and enhancements carried out to ensure ongoing improvement in a number of areas including:

- Visitors to the site
- Enquiries from the site
- Search Engine Positioning
- Links
- Additional Information etc.

Orders generated specifically from the site have paid the original investment 10 times over.

I am confident in recommending Netsecrets as a professional and reliable company for your email and web hosting services.
